“American Poetry”
A Symposium Sponsored by the American Literature Association

October 23-25, 2014

Hyatt Regency Savannah
Two W Bay Street
Savannah, Georgia

Conference Director: Richard Flynn, Georgia Southern University

Acknowledgments

The conference director wishes to express his appreciation to a number of people who provided help with planning the program. My graduate assistant, Anna Wells, has put in many hours of excellent service; my colleague Olivia Carr Edenfield, Executive Coordinator of American Literature Association, handled all the hotel logistics and arrangements; and Dustin Anderson helped in many ways, especially in giving great advice about the program. The Association thanks the Department of Literature and Philosophy at Georgia Southern University for its continued support. The director also thanks the Department of Writing and Linguistics and the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences for their support. Thanks to our readers, Emma Bolden and Eric Nelson, and to our keynoters, Stephen Burt and Alfred Bendixen. Of course, I offer special thanks to Alfred Bendixen, the founder, Executive Director, and guiding light of the American Literature Association. I have known Alfred almost since the Association's inception over twenty-five years ago. Most of all, I would like to thank all the participants in this exciting symposium: your commitment to poetry and poetry scholarship is exemplary.
