

The Marianne Moore Society seeks paper proposals for a panel at the annual American Literature Association (ALA) conference on May 25-28, 2023, in Boston at the Westin Copley Place Hotel. Topic open.

Proposals may address any aspect of Moore's work, including connections with other writers, interdisciplinary approaches, and discussions of genre, animals, biography/history, gender/sexuality, race, and geography/environment in Moore's work.

If interested, please email a proposed title and abstract of approximately 200 words by January 30 to Elizabeth Gregory at egregory@uh.edu.

Details about the conference, hotel reservations, a tentative conference schedule, and covid policies may be found at the ALA website at: <https://americanliteratureassociation.org/ala-conferences/ala-annual-conference/>
