Call for Papers

American Literature Association Conference
May 23-26, 2024
Chicago

The 35th annual conference of the American Literature Association is being held in Chicago from Thursday-Sunday, May 23-26, 2024. The Arthur Miller Society hopes to have a three-paper session at this conference. Topics can range over any aspect of Miller's works, life, and ideas, his relationship to other dramatists and thinkers, or his relevance to contemporary issues. Please email proposals for papers to David Palmer (dpalmer@maritime.edu) by January 15. The Miller Society's proposal for a pre-organized session is due to the conference administrators by January 30. Here is a link to the conference information. Thank you for considering this call for papers.
