

CFP: Latina/o/x Literature and Culture Society of the American Literature Association
May 20-23, 2026
Palmer House, Chicago Illinois

The Latina/o/x Literature and Culture Society of the American Literature Association seeks proposals for panels at the American Literature Association's 37nd annual conference at the Palmer House, Chicago, IL on May 20-23, 2026. We are open to any topics in the field but would like to have representation from a variety of genres. Possibilities include, but are not limited to:

Children's and YA literature and culture
Media and Visual Culture
Popular Literary Forms (speculative fiction, romance, etc.)
Poetry and/as Activism
Teaching Latina/o/x Studies

Those interested in submitting a paper or participating in the teaching roundtable should send a 300-word abstract with your name, position, affiliation, a one-paragraph bio, and contact information to Tanya González (tgonzale@ksu.edu) and Alexander Lalama (alalama@fsmail.bradley.edu).

Final Deadline for Proposals: Monday, January 26, 2026.

For more information about the ALA and the conference, go to www.americanliterature.org.