Chicago, IL 60603
(312) 726-7500

Conference Director:
Leslie Petty, Rhodes College

Registration Desk (3rd Floor Salon Foyer):

Wednesday, 8:00 pm – 10:00 pm;
Thursday, 8:00 am – 5:30 pm;
Friday, 8:00 am – 5:30 pm;
Saturday, 8:00 am – 2:00 pm

Book Exhibits (Salon 3):

Thursday, 10:00 am – 5:00 pm;
Friday, 9:00 am – 5:00 pm;
Saturday, 9:00 am – 1:00 pm

A Note on A/V Equipment:

The 2026 American Literature Association conference will provide a digital projector and screen for the sessions in Indiana, Kimball, Logan, Salon 1, Salon 2, Salon 7, and Salon 12. Individuals will need to provide their own laptops and are encouraged to provide their own cables or dongles to hook up with the projector, particularly if using a Mac or Ipad. A technician will be available during the conference to answer any questions or help with set-up. It is no longer possible to add additional a/v equipment to the sessions.

A Note on Navigating the Third Floor of the Palmer House:

Most of our program takes place on the third floor of the Palmer House Hilton. A map of that floor is on the inside back cover of this program. Please note that the third floor encompasses two levels with approximately 10 steps between the two. Thus, to move from the Salon rooms to the other meeting rooms, an individual would either have to take the stairs or take one set of elevators up to the 6th floor, cross the sixth floor to the other elevator bank, and take that elevator down to the third floor.

ALA Book Exhibit (Salon 3):

In Salon 3, the ALA will host a book exhibit of scholarly books featuring several academic presses. More information is forthcoming.

The book exhibit room will be open Thursday, 10:00 am – 5:00 pm; Friday, 9:00 am – 5:00 pm; Saturday, 9:00 am – 1:00 pm.

ALA Land Acknowledgement:

The Palmer House Chicago Hilton, in which we have gathered to share our scholarly explorations of American literary culture, sits on the unceded traditional homelands of the Council of the Three Fires: the Ojibwe, Odawa, and Potawatomi Nations and on the site of one of the largest urban American Indian communities in the United States. Other tribes including the Fox, Ho-Chunk, Menominee, Miami and Sac have also called this area home or gathered here for trade, travel, and healing. We pay our respect to the Indigenous caretakers of these lands and waters who have lived here, who live here now, and who will live here in the future.

Acknowledgements:

On behalf of the American Literature Association, I want to thank the society representatives and panelists for their contributions to the conference, as well as the individual participants who proposed papers and panels. Special appreciation to those folks who kindly volunteered to chair sessions. I believe it is more important than ever that we gather to encourage and support each other's work. Creating such an event is an extraordinary amount of work, but so worth it. This conference would not have been possible without the tireless and ongoing efforts of many people. Savannah Barrow at Georgia Southern University worked miracles keeping track of registration and the many iterations of the program. Our other executive assistants, Maegan Bishop, Natalie Fitts, and Callum Rolinson have also offered invaluable contributions. Rene Treviño handles all of ALA's technology and social media needs with expertise and efficiency. I benefit from the advice and good counsel of many members of the ALA Executive Board, especially Kirk Curnutt, Deborah Clarke, and Wendy Martin. Of course, I am enormously grateful to Alfred Bendixen for his deft and fearless leadership of the ALA for 37 years and counting, not to mention his dear friendship, and to Olivia Carr Edenfield, whose grace, kindness, and good judgment have helped guide and ground me for over twenty years. Finally, I'm eternally grateful to my husband, Bo Graham, and my daughters, Merrin and Bryson, for all their love and support.

Leslie Petty, Rhodes College
Executive Coordinator, American Literature Association

Colin Cutler Musical Performance

Colin Cutler will be performing two sets of original music at Fritzy's Tavern (6156 N Clark St, Chicago) on Thursday May 21st, 8:30-10:30pm. Free show, suggested donation of $10.

Cutler's last album, Tarwater, wove the characters of Flannery O'Connor's fiction (and his own life growing up Pentecostal) into "one magnificent tapestry of roots music" (No Depression) that "follows in the trail led by equally O'Connor-obsessed artists like Bruce Springsteen and Lucinda Williams" with "...juke joint energy coursing through it and a humidity that seems to sweat out the sins and the booze that these characters are often soaked in" (Paste).

A Reading of Claude McKay's Letters in Exile: Transnational Journeys of a Harlem Renaissance Writer, eds. Brooks E. Hefner and Gary Edward Holcomb (Yale University Press, 2025)

Organized by the Claude McKay Society

Eight American literary studies scholars will be reading short selections from Claude McKay's Letters in Exile: Transnational Journeys of a Harlem Renaissance Writer, edited by Brooks E. Hefner and Gary Holcomb and published by Yale University Press in 2025. Letters in Exile brings together two decades of McKay's never-before-published dispatches from the road with correspondents including Louise Bryant, W. E. B. Du Bois, Max Eastman, Langston Hughes, and Alain Locke. McKay discusses harassment in London while writing for Pankhurst's Workers' Dreadnought, meeting Leon Trotsky in Bolshevik Moscow, his marginalized disposition in Paris's Lost Generation and his life with the Marseille dockers' noir subculture, and his observations of French colonialism in Morocco.
