

The Saul Bellow Society will host one session titled “Saul Bellow: Other Voices, Other Places” at the American Literature Association’s 38th Annual Conference in Boston at the Westin Copley Place, May 26-29, 2027.

Proposals for papers may address any aspect of Saul Bellow’s work or life. For this session, we are particularly interested in papers comparing Bellow’s work with other writers (such as Philip Roth or Ralph Ellison), papers that consider literary influences on Bellow (such as Theodore Dreiser), and papers that consider Bellow in international contexts (such as Bellow’s experiences in France or his reception in Asia).

Proposals for presentations should include a title, your name and affiliation, e-mail address, and a short abstract. Please send proposals to William Etter, (Irvine Valley College) at better@ivc.edu. Receipt of proposals will be acknowledged by e-mail. Proposals are due no later than January 11, 2027.
